A guided cycle tour is a wonderful way to explore the region by bike and learn more about its history, culture and beautiful landscape.

The cycle tour crosses the border into the western Münsterland and the Dutch Achterhoek. A local guide provides interesting information and stories about the border town of Bocholt.

The tour with your own bike starts either at the LWL-Museum Textilwerk or at the car park of the sports club TSV Bocholt, Hemdener Weg 163, where participants are given an insight into the history of ## Bocholt and the development of the textile town.

The route continues by bike along paved cycle paths and quiet lanes, past meadows, fields, farms and churches that reflect the picturesque landscape of the Münsterland.

Beyond the "green border", the Achterhoek border region is explored on Dutch cycle paths, the "Fietspaden". After a break, the group sets off on the return journey.

The cycle tour ends after about five hours and around 50 kilometres at the car park of the LWL-Museum Textilwerk on Uhlandstraße.
