While the snow falls quietly outside, Kasper builds a snowman in front of the house where he lives with Aunt Frieda. But something magical happens in the night - the snowman comes to life! Kasper would like to let them celebrate Christmas with him, but he needs King Winter's permission to do so. Without further ado, he sets off that very night - equipped with a sledge, stove and firewood and accompanied by his faithful dog Schnuffi. On their journey, they meet new friends, overcome exciting challenges and finally return safely to Aunt Frieda.
