What does it mean to leave one's homeland? How does it feel when your life changes completely from one day to the next?

In our performance, we share our personal story - from the time before the war, through our flight, to a new beginning in a foreign country.

We invite you to join us on this journey, to experience our emotions first-hand and to take a look behind the headlines. Because some stories cannot be told on social media - you have to feel them.
