

The special film "Life without love is possible, but pointless"

On Tuesday, 27 January, the city of Bocholt presents the light-hearted comedy "A life without love is possible, but pointless" as part of the series "The Special Film". Eva, the main character, wishes for the feeling of first love back after 25 years of marriage and plunges headfirst and sometimes headlessly into the crazy new world of dating.

This romantic Spanish comedy starring Nora Navas will be shown on Tuesday, 27 January at 8 pm at the Kinodrom// Admission 7 euros

Eva is a strong woman who knows what she wants, but after 25 years of marriage, her heart is only working to the letter. Normal life has taken away something that is vital to her: the game of love. On a business trip to Rome, she meets the writer Alex, with whom she spontaneously falls in love, even though he is taken. Back in Barcelona, Eva gives up her orderly life, enters the world of dating algorithms and tries to find her way in the jungle of post-romantic possibilities - not always successfully. Between poetic promises, awkward encounters and charming disasters, she stumbles through the modern world of love.

The film lasts 100 minutes. The film was directed by Cesc Gay.

Trailers and tickets are available at www.kinodrom.de

The film series "KINO Bocholt - the special film" has existed since 1977 as a cooperation between the Department of Education and Culture of the City of Bocholt and Kinodrom Bocholt. The aim is to make unusual films that are not otherwise shown in the regular programme accessible to a wide audience. As a rule, selected productions are shown every second and fourth Tuesday of the month. Admission is €7.
