Together with companies, institutions and the university in Bocholt, the Hub Satellite was established in Bocholt.

The Hub Satellite was designed by an entrepreneurial consortium, which also participates in the financing. The aim is to force an exchange about digital business models.

The Digital Hub promotes digital innovations and their implementation through targeted matchmaking of established companies with start-ups, innovation formats and support for incubation activities.

With its Startup Fellowship and Accelerator Programme, the Digital Hub supports startups and intrapreneurs with growth potential in networking with universities, established companies and investors.
