

Fire brigade open day

On 24 September, there will be a big open day at the fire and rescue station in Bocholt at Dingdener Straße 10 with an extensive programme for young and old.

The Bocholt fire brigade introduces itself

Bochol residents and interested visitors from the region and the neighbouring Netherlands can look forward to a varied programme for the whole family that will provide insights into the work and everyday life of the Bocholt fire brigade.

Which vehicles does the fire brigade use for its operations? How does a rescue at height work? What do you have to watch out for during a rescue operation? These questions will be answered during exciting demonstrations.

Further programme highlights

- Tour of the fire and rescue station
Discover the fascinating world behind the scenes of a modern fire station and learn more about equipment and areas of operation. Find out about the work of individual units within the Bocholt fire brigade at information stands.
- Exciting demonstrations
Experience at first hand how our rescue teams carry out an accident rescue from a car and how an operation for the height rescuers works.
- Face painting and raffle
For the youngest visitors we will offer a face painting and a raffle with great prizes.
- Large model and vintage car exhibition
Big things in miniature: as part of the open day, there will be a model building exhibition - and vintage fire engines will also be on display.
- Food and drinks
We will have refreshments ready for our guests: snacks, drinks, coffee and cake can be bought on site, and there will also be an ice cream van.

Parking spaces

Visitors arriving by car can use the following parking areas:

- Elsinghorst car park (Mühlenweg)
- Car park at the youth welfare office (access Mühlenweg)
- Car park at Hellweg-Baumarkt (Dingdener Straße)
