Bauchgesänge - off to the second round

Singer Murzarella has finally accepted that she has to share her success: Her puppets can now be stars, too. But the down-to-earth sewer rat Kalle, the cheeky cockatoo Dudu and the capricious diva Frau Adelheid now go one step further and are no longer content to sing alongside Murzarella - they want more and dream of the world's big stages. At least they let Murzarella share their international casting experiences.

And then there's the new trainee Leonie, she too has already oiled her vocal chords. Can Murzarella still keep up?

Murzarella has not only mastered the art of ventriloquism, but also the art of ventriloquism. If you haven't experienced it yet, you won't believe it - but everything is sung live.

The multiple comedy award-winning artist presents her new musical puppet comedy show.
