"Everything won't be any different if you take it seriously!"

Really funny: Comedy duo Peter's Bierstübchen analyses the world situation in the dairy in Bocholt's West.

On Friday 5 May and Saturday 6 May 2023, from 19.59 and 60 seconds, "Pidda und Dietze", i.e. the comedy duo "Peter's Bierstübchen", will once again be at the Alte Molkerei cultural venue (Bocholt, Werther Str. 16) and this time they want to "analyse the current world situation in selected focusses", says Peter, the landlord (Jens Habers). His only permanent guest, Dietze (Phillip Küper), explains with a raised brow: "By foken, Peter probably means the plural of focus."

In keeping with this line of march, local topics are strangely always in focus. "After all, Bocholt is also part of the world," says Pidda, explaining his choice of foken. In any case, one can be curious because both lab experts promise a lot of new things, whereby "old new things" could partly not be excluded. "We can already be that concrete today. And, strictly speaking, everything won't be any different, if you look at it closely!", Dietze murmurs.

In this respect, one should not avoid too high expectations as far as the curiosity of the high-profile counter talks is concerned. "Admission is voluntary, but it costs! This time it's ... euros in advance, but ... euros at the box office. BBV subscribers save in advance and only pay ... euros," Pidda lets the price cat out of the bag.
