PSYCHO SEXY - Red Hot Chili Peppers Tribute Band

In 2012, the Red Hot Chili Peppers were inducted into the Rock'n Roll Hall of Fame with the following announcement: "I want you to welcome one of the best rock groups one of the best rap groups, one of the best reggae groups, one of the best ska groups, one of the best punk rock groups..."

It could hardly have been said more aptly - no band of the last 30 years has had as much influence on the following music generations as the Californian supergroup. Across genres.

Since 2003, the Red Hot Chili Peppers tribute band "Psycho Sexy" has been winning more and more fans all over Europe. Sweaty, energetic and with never-ending joy in playing, the quartet from the Rhineland literally rocks and sparks their fingers bloody. The four thoroughbred musicians are always able to create a live atmosphere that almost completely blurs the boundaries between original and copy.

Europe's biggest agency for Tribute Band No 1 Tributes / Kompevent once wrote about Psycho Sexy "Malicious tongues claim, live better than the original". Is there a greater compliment!?

Psycho Sexy prove that it's not just the music that counts, but also the understanding and appreciation of the Red Hot Chili Peppers. For the sake of completeness, the stage is decorated pepperlike. Even the noble Prada suit on the singer's body is not missing when Psycho Sexy takes the audience on a colourful, funky journey to California and back.
