Sistanagila - an Iranian-Israeli musical affair!

- The event is supported by the Integration Council and the Integration Office of the City of Bocholt -

The Israeli and Iranian musicians living in Berlin seek dialogue with their project. They use folkloric and religious melodies from Klezmer, Sephardic and traditional Persian music as well as modern and classical compositions. The different melodies and motifs, newly arranged with influences ranging from flamenco and jazz to progressive metal, merge into a music that creates something completely new and builds a bridge between two worlds.
