

Training night

District-wide "Night of Training" on 21 November 2024

During the event, the participating companies open their doors at their own locations and present themselves to interested pupils, young adults, their parents and other interested parties. The training companies provide information directly on site about the company, its training opportunities and internships.

People interested in training have the opportunity to visit the companies freely and informally and get a comprehensive picture of their future workplace. The impression of those seeking training goes far beyond the mere information: seeing where and with whom they work in the company and what awaits them as trainees in the company certainly contributes to the decision in favour of the right company.

This year, training companies can once again register on the website <https://nda.kreis-borken.de/> and can also be found here as participating companies by those interested in training.

The 5th district-wide "Night of Apprenticeships" will take place this year on Thursday, 21 November 2024 from 16:00 - 20:00.
