

Help for refugees

People from other countries seek asylum in Germany for various reasons. Here you can find information about local support structures and services for refugees in Bocholt.

Aid for war displaced persons

The Russian attack on Ukraine has the world worried: people are fleeing out of fear and desperation, mainly women and children. Germany is also a destination within the European Union.

Many people from Bocholt want to help.

The city of Bocholt continuously compiles up-to-date information for humanitarian aid on the ground as well as for affected people displaced by war in Ukraine.

Status: 8/2022

What is needed?

– Living space

It is not clear how many people fleeing the war will come to Bocholt. In the municipal initial reception centre at Werther Straße 3 (formerly "Yupidu"), the people are safely accommodated for the time being. There they receive a bed, food, health care and support with the necessary official notifications and applications. They can stay there if they want, or get to know a Bocholt family who would like to take them in, or find a place to live in another way.

Private individuals can make housing available to take in war displaced persons from Ukraine. Yvette Rathai of the municipal subsidiary EWIBO accepts private offers of housing by phone +49 2871 21765-293 or by e-mail yrathai\(at\)ewibo\(dot\)de.

Preference is given to housing units that can be used separately, such as houses or granny flats or similar.

In the case of privately rented flats, please make sure that the names of the new Ukrainian residents are legible on the letterbox. Otherwise, mail cannot be delivered.

– Monetary donations

The Bocholt association "Bündnis für Familie e.V." accepts donations. The money is used directly for Ukraine aid in Bocholt. The account:

City Savings Bank Bocholt

(please indicate address and mail address for donation receipt).

Citizens' information on planned refugee accommodation in Biemenhorst

© Stadt Bocholt

Triggered by the Russia-Ukraine conflict at the beginning of last year, but also by other crises in the world, more and more people are currently coming to Germany and thus also to Bocholt, seeking protection and shelter as they flee war and persecution.

In 2022, a housing complex has been built and put into operation in Bocholt - in addition to the already existing accommodation facilities - on the grounds of the former stadium of SC 26 Bocholt. Since the beginning of 2023, the gymnasium of the Overberg School has also been used for initial accommodation.

In view of the still tense situation, the city of Bocholt will expand the capacities for refugee provision. In addition to the conversion of gymnasiums, priority will be given to examining vacant public spaces.

Thus, due to the special regulations for refugee accommodation according to the provisions of § 246 of the Building Code, it is possible to use areas in the external area under building planning law for the accommodation of refugees due to the emergency situation. In this context, a public area in the area "Auf dem Takenkamp" has come into focus.

Due to the acute emergency situation, the city of Bocholt intends to prepare a site here - for a limited period of time - for the accommodation of refugees.

The city of Bocholt provided information on this in two citizens' meetings on 28 February and 2 March 2023 in the community centre and distributed initial information letters to Biemenhorst residents beforehand (for information, see download).

"Questions and concerns, ideas and suggestions can be expressed openly," say Mayor Thomas Kerkhoff and First Councillor Thomas Waschki.
