Content

The two rat children Elliot and Isabella chase the gang of ruffians across the Finsterwald to free their kidnapped grandpa Pucki. Cross your heart, put your paw up, spit three times and swear holy: the new adventure of the two rat kids Eliot and Isabella. Beautiful to fall in love with!

Eliot and his girlfriend Isabella want to pick up Grandpa Pucki. But the cottage is empty. Since it smells suspiciously of Bockwurst, the matter is clear! Grandpa has been kidnapped by Bocky and his gang of bullies. Eliot and Isabella follow the trail through the deep, dark forest, where many dangers lurk for rat children. But whenever things get dicey, Eliot has some pretty good ideas. So they not only get on the trail of Grandpa Pucki, but also go on a treasure hunt.

Corona Rules

The events take place under the 2G+. This means that upon admission, everyone must show their proof of vaccination and a negative test result (including boosted and children 5 years and older) that is no older than 24 hours.
