

09. November 2023

City marketing

Bocholt weekly market postponed due to prince proclamation on 11.11.

On Saturday, 11 November, the traditional prince proclamation will take place in Bocholt on the market square in front of the historic town hall. Due to this festive occasion, the weekly market will be moved to another location on this day. The relocation will allow the prince proclamation and the weekly market to run smoothly.

Green market in Osterstraße and on Liebfrauenplatz

The green market (fruit and vegetables) will be moved to the beginning of Osterstraße and the passage to Gasthausplatz for this day. Visitors can expect a diverse selection of fresh food and regional products.

Visitors to the weekly market will find the market vendors with their wide range of plants and (cut) flowers on Liebfrauenplatz.

Fresh market remains at its location

The fresh market with cheese and sausage products will take place as usual on Gasthausplatz.

From Tuesday, all vendors will be back at their usual locations

On Tuesday, 14 November, you will find the weekly market vendors back at their usual locations in front of the historic town hall, in Osterstraße