

02. November 2023

City marketing

Staple market on 8 November

Colourful shopping in Bocholt's city centre // Popular market takes place again

Stroll, browse, rummage

On Wednesday, 8 November, the next Krammarkt will take place in Bocholt's city centre - the goods will be presented mainly on Gasthausplatz, St.-Georg-Platz, the market square in front of the Historic Town Hall, on Nordstraße, Neustraße, Osterstraße and Neutorplatz in the usual way and at the well-known stalls. From 9.00 a.m. to 6.30 p.m., all visitors to the city centre are invited to stroll and browse through the pedestrian areas at the Krammarkt.

A wide range of products

The special diversity of the wide range of products is evident at every Krammarkt in Bocholt, because the traders bring everyday things with them that you often don't find in this way and in this wide range in the stationary shops. The colourful mix of textiles of all kinds, arts and crafts, gift articles, household goods, cosmetics, cleaning products, polishes, spices and knick-knacks make the Krammarkt in Bocholt's city centre so popular. The visitors appreciate the selection and ensure a good frequency and a great atmosphere in Bocholt's city centre on the Krammarkt days - almost comparable to the markets in the south of France, which can be found there regularly in all villages and towns and are special attractions for the residents, but also for out-of-town guests.

Culinary refreshment

Those who like can fortify themselves at the specially set-up snack stands and enjoy the delicious offerings. A break in one of the cafés or restaurants is also a welcome alternative.