Expert lecture on Friday, 21 June, from 5 pm in the Mensa Benölkenplatz // Participation free of charge, register now

Next Friday, 21 June, at the Mensa Benölkenplatz in Bocholt, the focus will be on new heating systems: Is my house suitable for a heat pump? What are the arguments in favour of a pellet boiler? Or would I rather just stick with gas?

Expert Ralf Sparwel provides an overview of the technical options and discusses the respective advantages and disadvantages. He will also explain the legal framework and funding opportunities. The event starts at 5 p.m. and lasts around two hours. Registrations can be made by e-mail to klimaschutz(at)bocholt(dot)de.

The event is part of a series of topics organised by the "Klimakreis Borken". The aim is to strengthen climate protection in the Borken district. More information at www.klimakreis-borken.de.
