Special offer "On-site energy consultation" already fully booked

Individual energy advice for property owners in Bocholt meets with enormous interest

The special campaign "Energy advice on site", which the city of Bocholt is offering in cooperation with the NRW consumer advice centre, has met with overwhelming interest. Shortly after the start of registration on 15 September, the campaign was fully booked and even overbooked.

Unfortunately, due to the high demand, no further registrations can be accepted.

"The great interest shows how important the topic of energy efficiency is for many property owners in Bocholt", says a delighted Sascha Terörde from the City of Bocholt's climate protection management team. The personalised on-site advice offers concrete assistance to reduce energy costs and at the same time make a contribution to the heat transition. The city of Bocholt would therefore like to thank all interested parties for their great trust and interest. This special campaign is a first building block in the realisation of municipal heating planning and a further step towards climate-friendly urban development.

Due to the success of the campaign, it is currently being examined whether and how the offer can be repeated, expanded or in a different form in the future.
