Art, kitsch and junk" again at the bulky waste exchange

Saturday, 13 May // 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. // ESB premises on Schaffeldstraße

On Saturday, 13 May, the waste advisory service of the waste disposal and service company invites you to the bulky waste exchange. From 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m., visitors are welcome to rummage around for exciting finds on the company's premises on Schaffeldstraße. Waste advisor Petra Tacke hopes for many visitors in a buying mood.

Collection for the bulky waste exchange

For an extensive offer, the recycling centre employees have been on the lookout for things suitable for sale at the bulky waste exchange over the past weeks. The collection container is filled to the brim with a colourful mixture of children's toys, decorative items, furniture and odds and ends. Experience has shown that the best items to sell are the little treasures that can easily be taken home. For the waste advisor, the collection container is always a kind of surprise box.

Help from Bocholt associations

Volunteers help the ESB with the set-up and sales. Helpers from the Child Protection Association support the waste advisor in the preparations. The THW youth is active as stewards and helps clean up after the exchange. During the bulky waste exchange, employees of the Repair Café provide freshly baked waffles.

Sale for the AWO care association

The main purpose of the bulky waste exchange is to reuse things that are in good condition and thus to promote sustainability. The more things that can be reused, the better. The proceeds from the Bulky Waste Exchange will go to the AWO Care Association. An AWO staff member will be present at the event to answer questions about the AWO's work and to actively support the sale.

Questions about this campaign can be answered by waste advisor Petra Tacke at 24 63 24.
