Bargain hunt: On Saturday is bulky waste exchange in Bocholt

Art, kitsch and bric-a-brac from 10-12 a.m. at the ESB recycling center // In the spirit of sustainability

On Saturday, September 17, it's that time of year again: the waste advisory service of the Bocholt waste disposal and service company invites you to the bulky waste exchange. From 10 a.m. to 12 p.m., visitors will be able to rummage for exciting finds on the company's premises on Schaffeldstraße. Waste consultant Petra Tacke hopes for many visitors in a buying mood.

Collection for the bulky waste exchange

For a comprehensive offer, the recycling center employees have been on the lookout in recent weeks for things that are suitable for sale at the bulky waste exchange. The collection container is already well filled with a colorful mix of children's toys, decorative items, furniture and odds and ends. Experience has shown that the best items to sell are the small treasures that can be easily transported home. For waste consultant Tacke, the collection container is always a kind of surprise box.

Help from Bocholt associations

Volunteers support the ESB during the set-up and sale. The Kinderschutzbund helps with the preparations. The THW youth is active as stewards and helps clean up after the exchange. During the bulky waste exchange, employees of the Repair café provide freshly baked waffles for the physical well-being.

Sales proceeds for "Tafel Bocholt"

The main purpose of the bulky waste exchange is to reuse items that are in good condition and thus to promote sustainability. The more things can be reused, the better. The proceeds of the bulky waste exchange will be donated to the "Tafel Bocholt". Two staff members of the "Tafel" will be present at the event to answer questions about the work of the Tafel.

Questions about the bulky waste exchange will be answered by waste consultant Petra Tacke at Tel. 02871 2463-24.
