

30. August 2022

Education and culture

"BOHJazz" with the organist Max Blumentrath

After the concert at the Bocholt Culture Days on the market square again in the usual atmosphere in the Skylounge

On Thursday, September 1, the concert series "BOHJazz" will continue in the Skylounge of the LWL Textilwerk. Soloist this time is Max Blumentrath on the organ. Curious visitors can look forward to interesting sounds of this unique combination. The concert starts at 8:30 pm. Admission is free.

The concert series "BOHJazz" plays every two months in the Skylounge. Each time a new line-up plays together at the evenings. Next Thursday, jazz guitarist Christian Hassenstein will play together with Max Blumentrath on the organ and with René Marx on drums.

Successful organist and pianist

Max Blumentrath is a Hammond organist and pianist. In 2012, he successfully completed his master's degree in Hammond organist at the University of Dresden, where his last student was Carl Maria von Weber. He learned from international organists and attended many master classes. Max Blumentrath has been shaped by many musical visits, such as to Copenhagen, Amsterdam and New York. He has also participated in workshops such as the European Jazz Academy 2006 and the We-Love-Jazz Workshop 2008 in Italy. Currently he plays in various formations, mostly as an organist, but also as a pianist.

The concert

Admission is free and will take place in the Skylounge of the LWL Textilwerk (Industriestraße 5, 46395 Bocholt). The concert begins at 8:30 pm.

© Foto: Jan Tervooren