City Museum: Submit your proposals now

Citizen participation ends Sunday, 20 August

Citizens can still submit ideas and suggestions for the redesign of the Bocholt City Museum until Sunday, 20 August. Museum director Lisa Resing reminds us of this.

"Modern, fresh and appealing" is how Resing would like the institution on city history to look. Younger people should take the chance to participate in the citizens' survey.

The city administration has launched a website with the "Survey on the Development of the Bocholt City Museum". After registration, suggestions can be submitted.

A kick-off event on the redesign of the museum already took place at the beginning of June. The recording can be seen on YouTube.
