How do I negotiate my (first) employment contract?

Free online seminar for women on Wednesday, March 16, 2022, 7 p.m. // Register now.

What is important when negotiating an employment contract, perhaps even your first? Bocholt's Equal Opportunities Officer Astrid Schupp invites interested women to take part in an online seminar on Wednesday, March 16, 2022, starting at 7 pm. The speaker will be Sina Alya Wunderlich, lecturer in labor law. Registrations by e-mail at the Equal Opportunities Office of the City of Bocholt at gleichstellung\(at\)bocholt\(dot\)debocholt(dot)de). Participation is free of charge.

The lecture deals with the topic of employment contracts with all important components (remuneration, overtime, time limits, vacation regulations, notice periods and reasons for termination, probationary period and references), offers tips and informs about illegal clauses. What may and must be included in employment contracts? When do I negotiate the individual components - already in the job interview or rather later? And what is not allowed in employment contracts?

The event is part of the "Frau+Beruf" series organized by the municipal equal opportunity commissioners in the district of Borken.
