Lecture: "Strong voice, strong on the job".

How Women Speak Clearly, Powerfully and Competently // Equal Opportunity Commissioner invites you to

On Tuesday, November 15, at 7 p.m., there will be a free online seminar from the "Frau+Beruf" series. The topic: "Strong voice - Strong on the job! How women speak clearly, powerfully and competently. The lecture is intended to "open up ways to appear authentic and convincing," according to speaker and voice coach Sabine Klecker.

Presenting one's own work, a personal project or oneself as a person is difficult for many women. The lecture by voice coach Sabine Klecker is intended to open up ways of appearing authentically and convincingly - even in and before larger or unknown groups.

In an impulse lecture the participants become acquainted with the natural effect range of body language, statement intention and voice, so the adviser.

Afterwards some interested ones receive the possibility of trying themselves out directly in a presentation round, in order to get constructive feedback. Practical exercises on the topic of "Present body - present voice", with further tips for everyday professional life, round off the lecture.

Bocholt's Equal Opportunities Officer Astrid Schupp cordially invites all interested women and girls. The event takes place within the framework of the series "Frau+Beruf" of the municipal equal opportunity commissioners in the district of Borken.

Please register by e-mail at the Equal Opportunities Office of the City of Bocholt at gleichstellung\(at\)bocholt\(dot\)debocholt(dot)de).
