Charity concert in Dinxperlo for non-profit organisation

Support from the City of Bocholt and Europe Direct Bocholt

On 4 and 5 November, there will be a benefit concert in Dinxperlo at the sports centre "Het Blauwe Meer" in aid of the charitable foundation "WensAmbulance". The concert is also supported by the Volunteer Agency of the City of Bocholt and the Europe Direct Bocholt.

Bands from Germany, the Netherlands and other European countries will be on stage on both concert days, including the John F. Klaver Trio (NL), Annika Andersson (SE) the Hell's Belles (DE) and Strange Kind of Woman (IT).

The non-profit organisation WensAmbulance grants last wishes to terminally ill and seriously ill people and organises couch transports within and outside the Netherlands for this purpose. "Already more than 30 of these wishes have been fulfilled from Germany to Holland in recent years," says organiser Gerard Kolenbrander in conversation with Rainer Howestädt of the Bocholt Volunteer Agency.

The volunteer agency supports the concert by organising the young volunteers. According to the Volunteer Agency, many pupils, students and high school graduates have already signed up for the project.

About "WensAmbulance"

The declared aim of the non-profit organisation WensAmbulance Oost-Nederland is to make the last wishes of terminally and seriously ill people possible by organising couch transport. The foundation says it works exclusively with volunteers. According to its own information, the foundation is financed entirely by donations.
