19.00 Start DOKULIVE

20.15 Questions and discussion

Approx. 9 p.m. End of the event

The topic

In Strasbourg and Brussels, the Mainz political scientist and lecture professional Ingo Espenschied will go in search of clues, talk to MPs from various parties and look over the shoulders of parliamentarians as well as the administration in their daily work. A look back at the eventful history of the European Parliament provides additional clarity: what began as a small, primarily representative institution has matured over the course of more than 65 years into a weighty political player within the EU. Today, the European Parliament is not only the legislator in Europe - its history is also a mirror of European integration as a whole.

The Author

Ingo Espenschied studied in Mainz, at the Sorbonne in Paris and at the London School of Economics, and is a recognised expert on Franco-German relations and European politics. As a freelance journalist, producer and lecturer, he now lives and works near Mainz. With the DOKULIVE® format, Espenschied has founded a new genre in the field of political education that has met with great international acclaim (information: www.dokulive.eu) .

Who is the event interesting for?

The event is of interest to everyone aged 16 and over, as in Germany young people aged 16 and over will be able to vote for the first time in the next European elections. As parents or grandparents, please feel free to take the young people with you.

Information stand and free drink

EUROPE DIRECT Bocholt will be present with an information stand from 18:30. Those who wish can get a free drink there for the event.
