Europe: Young French woman from La Réunion talks about her country

Free online event from the series "My Europe - My Europe" on Wednesday, October 26, starting at 7 p.m.

The Europe Direct office in Bocholt draws attention to an online event next Wednesday, October 26, in which citizens interested in Europe can participate free of charge. In the series "My Europe" (here: Mon Europe), young people on Europe present topics from their country. On Wednesday, Frenchwoman Indina Nice will speak about La Réunion. The start is at 7 p.m.

Interested parties can register via the link <https://ogy.de/Reunion-2022>. The access data will be sent by e-mail.

My Europe / My Europe

My Europe' is an interactive digital event series that lets its guests discover Europe. How does it work? "It's simple: we talk to young people from different countries about Europe and their personal issues of the heart," says Sonja Wießmeier, Europe Direct representative from Bocholt.

About the speaker

On October 26, Indina Nice will take the audience on a virtual journey. She is 28 years old and lives on the French island of La Réunion, currently in Saint-Leu on the west coast.

After graduating from high school, she spent a year as an aupair looking after four children in Düsseldorf. She was a junior ambassador for the German-French Youth Office (DFJW) for two years. Indina studied business administration and education and was the director of a training center for seven years. She currently works as a child care worker and plays basketball in her free time.

The island of La Réunion belongs to France, but is 11,000 kilometers away from Paris and lies in the Indian Ocean. Indina Nice will introduce the island in German: Geography, history, language, culture, political parties and much more. She will also discuss the relationship of La Réunion and Europe with the different roles and challenges.

Participants in the online meeting will be able to ask questions. Kathi Ross will be the moderator.

The partner of this event is the EUROPE DIRECT Center La Réunion - Mayotte.

This is how the online discussion works

After clicking on <https://ogy.de/Reunion-2022> click on "individual registration" or "group registration" and register, then access data will be sent immediately by e-mail.

Participants can join the event from home a few minutes before it starts on the day of the event. At the online event, they will initially neither be seen nor heard in person. Questions and comments can be entered via keyboard. The moderator will relay the questions to the speakers. If necessary, guests' microphones will be unlocked to allow questions directly via audio.
