

14. September 2022

Family

New family planner available now

Kinderschutzbund Bocholt publishes popular calendar again // Six points of sale

The new family planner for the calendar year 2023 is now available. The popular calendar has now been presented by representatives of the participating organizations. It is now available from sales outlets for a nominal fee of one euro.

The calendar was designed by many Bocholt associations, institutions and organizations that are committed to children and young people. These were called upon in advance via the media to participate in the design with pictures and information and to present their offerings on the twelve calendar pages. The birthday calendar, which has become very popular, is also included again.

The city of Bocholt and Stempel Meyer support the project financially and through editorial collaboration. The family planner is also supported financially by Stadtparkasse Bocholt and Bocholter Energie- und Wasserversorgung GmbH (BEW). Patron of the project is Bocholt's mayor Thomas Kerkhoff.

The family planner is available now for a nominal fee of one euro at the following sales points:

- Kinderschutzbund
- Stamp Meyer
- Family education center
- City library
- Tourist-Info Bocholt
- Infopoint Shopping Arkaden

© Stadt Bocholt

Stellen gemeinsam den neuen Familienplaner vor (von links): Kai Enck (Stadtsparkasse Bocholt), Jürgen Elmer (Geschäftsführer BEW), Martina Tefert (Kinderschutzbund), Maria Falkenberg (Kinderschutzbund), Jürgen Schroer (Stempel Meyer), Ina Bühs (Fachbereich Jugend, Familie, Schule und Sport) und Schirmherr Thomas Kerkhoff (Bürgermeister).