

10. January 2023

Integration Council

Integration: Consultation hours and international café at the Fabi

Regular offer for intercultural exchange // Monday, January 16, 6-8 p.m. // Registration not required.

On Monday, January 16, 2023, the next consultation hour of the Integration Council will take place at the Family Education Center as part of the "International Café". Two members of the board of the Bocholt Integration Council will be available on site for intercultural exchange, but also for specific questions, from 6 to 8 pm.

On Monday, January 16, 2023, the next consultation hour of the Integration Council will take place at the Family Education Center as part of the "International Café". Two members of the board of the Bocholt Integration Council will be available on site for intercultural exchange, but also for specific questions, from 6 to 8 pm.

"The Fabi's offer with the 'International Café' is aimed at all people who are interested in intercultural exchange," reports Ulrik Störzer from the Family Education Center. "The focus of these meetings is on topics that affect the everyday lives of people with international family histories in our city."

"Direct, personal contact is particularly important to us," emphasize Juan Lopez Casanava, Chairman of the Integration Council of the City of Bocholt, and Bruno Wansing, Integration Officer of the City of Bocholt. The low-threshold offer is intended to create the opportunity to learn from each other in order to enable mutual integration.

Registration for the consultation hours is not required.

© Stadt Bocholt

Der Vorstand des Integrationsrates der Stadt Bocholt (v.l.n.r.) Ataf Chaudhry, Memet Cinar, Juan Lopez Casanova und Abdulkadir Kis stehen während des internationalen Cafés in der Familienbildungsstätte am Ostwall für Fragen, Anregungen zum Thema Integration zur Verfügung - Foto: Stadt Bocholt