Music school

Audition week "Music School in Concert" begins in Bocholt and Isselburg

Pupils from the Bocholt-Isselburg music school present their skills at mini-concerts from Thursday

From Thursday, 14 March to Thursday, 21 March, music students will be presenting their skills to the public in short concerts. The concerts will take place at various locations in Bocholt and Isselburg. Admission is free. Registration is not required.

This year, the music school is once again organising its traditional audition week "Music School in Concert" in the music school building in Salierstr. and also in various event locations in Bocholt and Isselburg, as well as organising small mini-concerts every day.

This gives the pupils the opportunity to present their skills to a small audience. This time, the mini-concerts will take place in the auditoriums of Josefschule and St. Georgs-Gymnasium, in the historic town hall, in the Alte Molkerei cultural centre, in the Catholic parish hall in Isselburg, in the textile factory and in several churches, including St. Agnes Church. The residents of the neighbouring Diepenbockheim will also be able to enjoy the musical performances there, as the concerts will be broadcast live to all residents' rooms.

Registration is not required. Admission is free.
