

24. November 2025

Music school

Two pre-Christmas concerts by the music school at Textilwerk

On 6 and 7 December // Free admission, book your free tickets now

The Bocholt-Isselburg Music School invites you to two pre-Christmas concerts in the Drosselsaal of the LWL Textile Museum on 6 and 7 December. Ensembles from the music school will present a varied programme free of charge. Tickets are available online free of charge.

The city of Bocholt would like to draw your attention to two pre-Christmas concerts by the Bocholt-Isselburg Music School, which will take place on Saturday, 6 December at 6:30 pm and on Sunday, 7 December at 11 am in the Drosselsaal of the LWL Textile Museum. Both dates offer a musically diverse programme, performed by various ensembles and orchestras from the music school.

On Saturday evening, the percussion ensemble, the "Vielsaitig" plucked string orchestra, the youth orchestra, the Concert Strings and the Young Voices will perform under the direction of their respective teachers. The Sunday concert will be organised by the Mini-Winds, the Wind Band and the Youth Wind Orchestra together with the Concert Strings. The city of Bocholt is delighted that numerous young musicians are enriching the cultural pre-Christmas season with their performances.

The concerts are organised in cooperation with the music school's parents' and sponsors' association. Free tickets are available via the Eveeno booking portal: eveeno.com/vorweihnachtskonzerte2025.

Admission begins 30 minutes before the start of each concert.

© Stadt Bocholt

Titus Krechting wows the audience with his solo on the trombone at the Christmas concert.