Saturday, May 14, 11:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m., meeting point
Liebfrauenplatz // participation free of charge

Saturday, May 14, is the nationwide "Day of Urban Development. In many municipalities, public guided tours of the city will be held to report on interesting state-subsidized construction measures and building projects. This is also the case in Bocholt. This year, the city tour is embedded in the anniversary celebrations of the 800th anniversary of the city. The city tours start at 11:30 am and 12:30 pm respectively at the bicycle parking facility at Liebfrauenplatz. Participation is free of charge.

Under the motto "Past-Present-Future," a two-hour tour will visit sites in the city center that have already been redesigned as part of the urban development program, are in the process of being redesigned, or will soon be redesigned.

The urban development department asks in advance for registration until Thursday, May 12, via e-mail stadtentwicklung\(at\)bocholt\(dot\)debocholt(dot)de) or by phone 2871 953-793.
