Bocholt's "attachée" for international relations celebrates service anniversary

Petra Taubach 40 years with the Bocholt Municipality

Petra Taubach is currently celebrating 40 years of service with the Bocholt city administration. Many people from Bocholt and guests of the city know her as a busy organiser and knowledgeable companion of delegations when it comes to visits and relations with international twin towns or friendly cities. Taubach has been a kind of "attachée for international affairs" for decades.

Taubach has been working for the city of Bocholt in the "International Affairs" department since 1989. During this time, she has "continuously worked to promote German-foreign relations and made a significant contribution to the international success of our city", praises the city administration.

The basis of her work is a large network of international contacts based on trust and mutual appreciation.
