Creative head celebrates service anniversary

Vanessa Kretschmer 25 years with the Bocholt city administration

Vanessa Kretschmer is now celebrating her service anniversary at the Bocholt municipal administration. Brochures, posters, logos, advertisements, printed matter, whether digital or print: For 25 years, the trained media designer has been involved as a "creative head" in the external presentation of the authority.

Every citizen in Bocholt has certainly seen one of her works, be it banners for the city cycling programme, flyers for the youth welfare office or municipal advertisements in the newspaper. In the press and information service, the jubilarian is the central contact person for all departments of the administration, whose campaigns and concerns she supports with "fresh, creative ideas and designs", praises the administration.
