Current vaccination dates at the Kommunale Impfstelle Bocholt

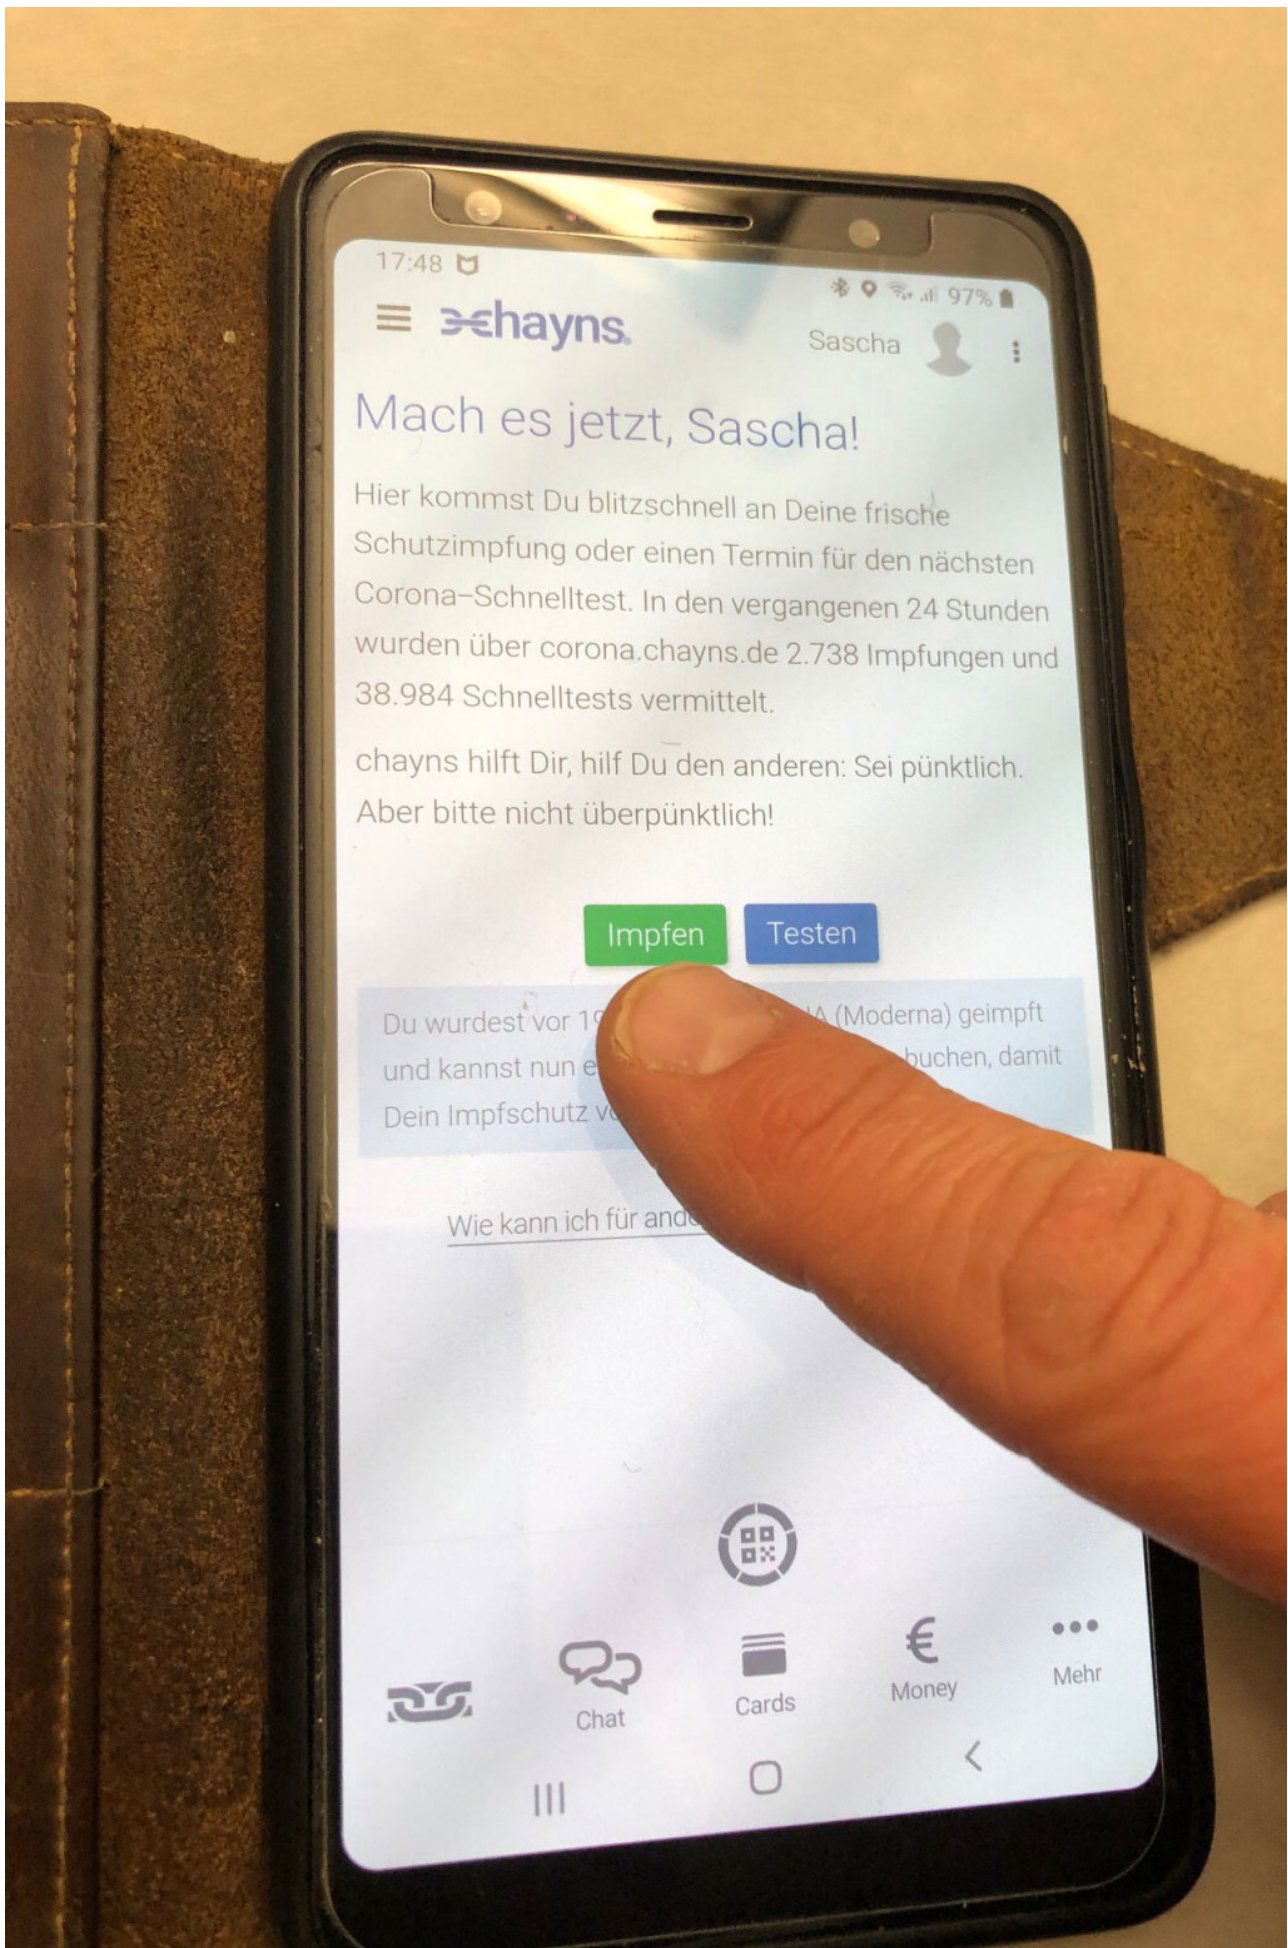

Friday and Saturday with appointment, next week without appointment // vaccines from Moderna and Biontech are available

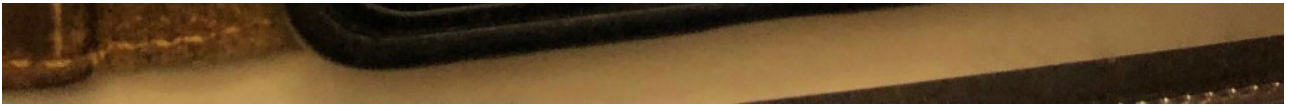

There are still appointments available this week on Friday and Saturday at the municipal vaccination center of the city of Bocholt on the market square (former Sparkasse building). These can be booked conveniently via the Chayns app (www.corona.chayns.de). Vaccinations will be given to persons 12 years of age and older. Friday, January 28, vaccinations will take place from 4-7 p.m., and on Saturday (January 29) from 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

Moderna and Biontech vaccines are available. You must bring your vaccination book, ID card and a signed consent form (can also be done on site). A FFP2 mask must be worn at the vaccination appointment. The KIB asks to come appropriately for the booked appointment to avoid unnecessary contacts if possible.

Next week the mobile vaccination unit of the district of Borken, the KoCi, will come to Bocholt. Then people 5 years and older can get vaccinated without an appointment. These appointments are on Tuesday, February 1, from 13-19, and on Thursday, February 3, from 13-19.
