For 25 years the faithful and hardworking soul at the Arnold-Janssen-School

School secretary Karin Grunwald celebrates anniversary at the city administration

School secretary Karin Grunwald is now celebrating 25 years of service with the city of Bocholt. She has been the loyal and hardworking soul at the Arnold-Janssen School since the mid-90s.

Grunwald initially began her service as a temporary employee in the school secretary's office at the Arnold-Janssen School; she has been a permanent employee there since 1998 and has reliably held the fort ever since. Her responsibilities are many and varied: she supports the school administration in school organization, manages the school budget, helps with student registration and deregistration, advises parents, coordinates Corona regulations, and much more. Grunwald is also the contact person for the student body in personal emergency situations. She is greatly appreciated by the teachers and students for her dedication combined with her friendly nature.
