The loyal and hard-working soul at the Arnold Janssen School for 25 years

School secretary Karin Grunwald celebrates her anniversary with the city council

School secretary Karin Grunwald is now celebrating her 25th anniversary with the city of Bocholt. She has been a loyal and hard-working soul at the Arnold Janssen School since the mid-1990s.

Grunwald initially started working as a temporary employee in the school secretariat at Arnold Janssen School, where she has been permanently employed since 1998 and has reliably held the position ever since. She has a wide range of responsibilities: she supports the school management with school organisation, manages the school budget, helps with registering and deregistering pupils, advises parents, coordinates coronavirus regulations and much more. Grunwald is also the contact person for pupils in personal emergency situations. She is highly appreciated by the teachers and pupils for her commitment and friendly manner.
