"Care before the collapse": Panel discussion with Minister Karl-Josef Laumann

+++ Current notice: Event is fully booked - no more free places +++

The senior citizens' advisory council of the city of Bocholt invites you to a panel discussion on Tuesday, 9 May, on the topic of "Care before the collapse - responsible care across generations".

The event will start on 9 May at 6 pm and will take place in the rooms of the Stadtparkasse Bocholt (Neutorplatz 1).

The Minister of Labour, Health and Social Affairs of North Rhine-Westphalia is expected to be the main guest. Laumann has already dealt intensively with the topic of care and its future requirements in recent years. In addition to Minister Laumann, a family caregiver and one representative each of inpatient and outpatient care will sit on the podium.

The discussion will focus on what intergenerational, responsible care can look like in Bocholt in the future and what challenges care is confronted with in this context.

Information is available from the Bocholt Senior Citizens' Office by telephone on 02871 953-2344.

Note: There are no more free places, the event is fully booked (as of 26.4.23).
