

21. June 2022

Training

Training and career: Helping to shape Bocholt's future at the city administration

From now on, you can apply for the first apprenticeship positions 2023 at the Bocholt municipal administration. The municipality is looking for motivated and committed junior staff (m/f/d) for the dual courses of study Bachelor of Laws and Bachelor of Science (administrative informatics) as well as the apprenticeship as an emergency paramedic for the recruitment year 2023.

The application can be submitted online at www.bocholt.de/rathaus/ausbildung until 18 July 2022. "Here you can also find information about the entry requirements, earning opportunities, field reports and videos on the individual apprenticeships and courses of study," says Eva Telahr, head of training at the Bocholt municipal administration.