9. use of local storage items, session storage items and cookies

a) What data is processed for what purpose?

Our website uses local storage items, session storage items and cookies.

Local storage is a mechanism that enables the storage of data within the browser on your end device. This data usually contains user preferences, such as the "day" or "night" mode of a website, and is retained until you delete the data manually.

Session storage is very similar to local storage, whereas the storage period only lasts during the current session, i.e. until the current tab is closed. The session storage items are then deleted from your end device.

Cookies are information that a web server (server that provides web content) stores on your end device in order to be able to identify this end device. They are either stored temporarily for the duration of a session (session cookies) and deleted at the end of your visit to a website or permanently (permanent cookies) on your end device until you delete them yourself or they are automatically deleted by your web browser.

These three objects can also be stored on your device by third-party companies when you visit our website (third-party requests). This enables us, as the operator, and you, as a visitor to this website, to utilise certain third-party services that are installed on this website. Examples of this are cookies for processing payment services or cookies for displaying videos or maps.

b) What is the legal basis for processing this data?

These mechanisms can be used in a variety of ways. They can improve the functionality of a website, control shopping basket functions, increase the security and convenience of website use and carry out analyses of visitor flows and behaviour. Depending on the individual functions, they must be categorised under data protection law. If they are necessary for the operation of the website and intended to provide certain functions (shopping basket function) or serve to optimise the website (e.g. cookies to measure visitor behaviour), they are used on the basis of Art. 6 para. 1 lit. e GDPR. As the website operator, we have a public interest in the storage of these objects for the technically error-free and optimised provision of our services. In all other cases, cookies are only stored with your express consent in accordance with Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a GDPR.

c) Are there other recipients of the personal data in addition to the controller?

If objects or mechanisms are used by third-party companies or for analysis purposes, we will inform you about this separately in this data protection notice. Your required consent will be requested and can be revoked at any time.

d) How long is the data stored?

The objects or mechanisms are deleted after the purpose has been fulfilled. You are responsible for the deletion of cookies that are stored on your end device, for example, by giving your consent.

10. use of external services (third-party services)

External services are used on our website. External services are services from third-party providers that are used on our website. This can be done for various reasons, for example for embedding videos, maps, advertising tools, website security and much more. When using these services, personal data is also passed on to the respective providers of these external services. If we do not have a public or contractual interest in the use of these services in accordance with Article 6 lit. b, e GDPR, we will obtain your consent, which can be revoked at any time, as a visitor to our website before using them (Article 6 para. 1 lit. a GDPR).

10.1 Content Management System - EGOTEC AG

a) What data is processed for what purpose?

A content management system enables the creation, editing, organisation and presentation of digital content. We use a content management system to create content for our website. This enables us to design a more appealing website.

b) What is the legal basis for processing this data?

We base this processing on a public interest (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. e GDPR). Our public interest lies in the technically error-free presentation and optimisation of the website.

c) Are there other recipients of the personal data in addition to the controller?

We use the CMS from EGOTEC AG, EGOCMS. The provider of the service is EGOTEC, Pfalzgraf-Otto-Straße 81, 74821 Mosbach, Germany.

As the service is used locally on our behalf, there is no further data transfer to third parties with the exception of the hosting provider (see section 5).

d) How long is the data stored?

The data is deleted as soon as it is no longer required to fulfil the purpose for which it was collected.

10.2 Online appointment bookings

a) What data is processed for what purpose?

The online appointment booking service is available to you free of charge. The use of the online appointment booking service is personalised. For this purpose, we process personal data (registration data, appointment data) as part of your booking.

b) What is the legal basis for processing this data?

If you book an appointment via our website, personal data is entered on an expressly voluntary basis. The legal basis for processing is Article 6(1)(a) GDPR.

Persons under the age of 16 should not transmit any personal data to us unless the consent of their parents or guardians has been given (Art. 8 (1) GDPR). The consent must then be expressly noted in the message (Art. 8 para. 2 GDPR)

c) Are there other recipients of the personal data in addition to the controller?

The City of Bocholt's appointment software is hosted by

JCC SOFTWARE
Zutphenstraat 59
7575 EJ Oldenzaal
The Netherlands

The service provider receives the above-mentioned data for this purpose as a processor.

Internally, the responsible specialised department receives your data.

d) How long will the data be stored?

We delete the personal data that we receive via the appointment booking software as soon as it is no longer required for the purpose for which it was collected.

e) Notes on appointment bookings

Appointments can only be made by the person named in the reservation or an authorised representative on behalf of this person. The name of the person making the reservation cannot be changed at a later date. The transfer of an appointment to a third person is not permitted.

The date of birth serves as the verification date for collecting the local ticket number for the planned appointment.

10.3 Analytics (analysis tools)

a) What data is processed for what purpose?

We process personal data of website visitors to analyse user behaviour. By analysing the data obtained, we are able to compile information about the use of the individual components of our website. This enables us to improve the user-friendliness of our website. By means of the analysis tools used, for example, our website visitors can be recognised the next time they visit our website and their click/scroll behaviour, their downloads measured, page views recognised, the duration of the visit or the bounce rates measured, and the origin of the website visitors (city administration, country, which page the visitor comes from) can be traced. The analysis tools enable us to improve our market research activities and thus offer you sustainable administrative services.

The service is accessed via an external link, but we are already informing you here about data protection when handling your personal data.

You have the option of paying contributions, fees, entrance fees, taxes, fines, etc. via the administrative processes we have set up in connection with the associated charges.

11. social networks

The City of Bocholt only refers to your presence on social media such as Facebook, Instagram, X (most recently: Twitter), WhatsApp, YouTube etc. via links. You can recognise the link by the respective logo of the social network.

The purpose of our profiles on social media platforms is to increase our online presence and thus raise our profile and provide (press) information. Therefore, the legal basis is legitimate interest pursuant to Art. 6 para. 1 lit. e GDPR. Furthermore, with regard to the processing activities by the social networks, please refer to their own legal bases (e.g. consent pursuant to Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a GDPR), which you can find in the respective privacy policy.

No so-called social media plugins are used by the city of Bocholt on its website. External pages of the social networks are only accessed by actively using the links. If you do not want social networks to assign data collected via our website to your user account, you must log out of the social network before visiting our website. The purpose and scope of the data collection and the further processing and use of the data by social networks as well as your rights in this regard and setting options to protect your privacy can be found in the data protection information of the respective provider.

What does it mean for you as a user when you connect with us via social networks? When you visit our profiles, your IP address and other information about the devices you use are processed, which allows IP addresses to be assigned to individual users. We have no influence on this data processing. We would like to point out that you use our profiles on social networks and their functions on your own responsibility. Details on data processing can be found in the operator's privacy policy.

We would like to point out once again that you use the services we offer and their functions on your own responsibility. This applies in particular to interactive functions such as sharing, rating, commenting, etc.

Supplementary information on social networks

Social networks process personal data of their users to a large extent. The following information is intended to inform you about the data protection aspects of the social networks and platforms operated by the City of Bocholt.

a) What data is processed for what purposes?

In addition to other media channels, in particular the city's website, the city of Bocholt maintains online presences within social networks and platforms in order to be able to inform the citizens, interested parties and users active there as part of its public relations work. Citizens, users and interested parties thus have various options available to them to find out about the city of Bocholt and to get in touch with it.

b) What is the legal basis for processing this data?

The City of Bocholt uses social networks for targeted public relations work with citizens. The associated processing of users' personal data is justified in accordance with Art. 6 para. 1 lit. e GDPR in conjunction with Section 3 para. 1 of the NRW Data Protection Act. Effective information of citizens by public authorities serves the fulfilment of a task in the public interest. In addition, users are generally asked by the respective platform providers for their consent to the data processing described above in accordance with Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a) GDPR.

c) Information on data processing in social networks

We would like to point out that when using social networks, user data may be processed outside the European Union. It is not known which data is specifically collected and for what purposes it is processed. However, it is certain that the IP address of users and other data or information about you that is stored on your device in the form of cookies is collected and processed. We have no influence over this data processing. The transfer of data outside the European Union may result in risks for users because, for example, the enforcement of users' rights could be made more difficult, especially in the US.

Furthermore, user data may be processed by providers for market research and advertising purposes. For example, user profiles are created based on user behaviour and the resulting interests of users. The usage profiles can be used by the providers, for example, to place adverts inside and outside the platforms that presumably correspond to the interests of the users. For these purposes, cookies are usually stored on the user's computer, in which the user's usage behaviour and interests are stored. Furthermore, data can also be stored in the user profiles independently of the devices used by the users (especially if the users are members of the respective platforms and are logged in to them).

In principle, we are jointly responsible with the respective social media platform for the data processing operations triggered when you visit our profile. You can therefore assert your rights as a data subject in accordance with Art. 15 et seq. of the GDPR against the social media platform as well as against us. However, for a detailed description of the respective processing and the opt-out options, we refer you to the following linked information from the providers. In the case of requests for information and the assertion of user rights, we would also like to point out that these can be asserted most effectively with the providers. Only the providers have access to the user's data and can take appropriate measures and provide information directly. If you still need help, you can contact us.
