

Mobile stage

Boards that mean the world

The city of Bocholt provides clubs, institutions and other organisations with a mobile platform stage free of charge to enable charitable, cultural and socially relevant events for the citizens of the region in all parts of the city. These events are mostly planned and organised by volunteers.

The stage consists of 24 individual stage elements, each 1m x 2m, and can be used for a variety of cultural events throughout the calendar year - whether indoor or outdoor - thanks to its various construction heights (20, 40, 60, 80 cm). Safety railings, stairs and other accessories are also available.

What happens after the application?

After applying for a free loan using the online form (see below), the application will be checked by the City of Bocholt's Culture and Archive Division. The staff will then contact the applicant without being asked to do so in order to discuss the next steps and conclude a loan agreement.
